ICY GRIP OF WINTER FELT IN MANY PLACES

Coldest Weather in Paducah in Two Years--Blizzard in Other States.

Two degrees below zero! This has been the coldest day in this section since February 17th, 1903, the coldest in nearly two years. The last day colder in Paducah than today was December 15, 1901, when the mercury went to 3 degrees below zero, one degree colder than the minimum last night. Therefore, in over three years there has been but one colder day than today in Paducah.

These figures are from the government records in Special Observer William Bornemann's office, and are correct. Mr. Bornemann's thermometers are the finest in this part of Kentucky, and are sheltered according to scientific requirements in order to correctly determine the correct temperature. Last night the coldest was 2 below, and the warmest 30 above.

While this is the official temperature, and the one the government goes by in keeping its records and sending out its weather reports, it is nevertheless a fact that many other thermometers went as low as 5 or 6 degrees below zero, and there were possibly few in the city, if any, that didn't show below the zero mark about daylight. The temperature varied according to the varieties of thermometer examined. Those on the river were lower than those up about Third street, and those in the north end were still colder, while in the west end some thermometers, according to their owners, registered as low as 5 and 6 below zero. Telephone messages from the county claim a still lower temperature than anywhere about town.

Still, it was cold enough anywhere to suit anyone, no matter what the thermometer showed. Last winter the thermometer did not once go as low as 0, although it did the preceding winter. There has been a cutting wind since last night which accentuated the frigidity, but a wind does not affect the thermometer.

The effect of the sudden cold wave has been evident all over the city, and few have ventured out except those who had to. The street cars have been running regularly, and many water pipes and ranges are reported frozen or disabled by the freeze.

The school attendance was not much affected by the cold on account of the examinations.

The telephone and telegraph companies experienced a great deal of trouble by breaking wires, caused by the cold contracting the lines and Lineman John O'Bryan, of the Postal Telegraph company, who also looks after the I. C. wires between Tennessee river, Mayfield and Cairo, went out this morning to find breaks. The Louisville line on the I. C. road was "out" this morning, but other than this, the I. C. reported no trouble.

The Postal company reported a line down between Paducah and Louisville and Paducah and Memphis and the Western Union reported but little trouble. The lines go down and as soon as the break is discovered, linemen are sent out to remedy the breaks, and the telegraph companies are inconvenienced but a short time.

The Independent Telephone company reported but slight damage, but the Cumberland company had several local wires in the city and county and five long distance lines out. The long distance lines were those to Cairo, Earlinton, Wickliffe, Union City, and Smithland. Linemen were sent out to repair the breaks at once.

The I. C. reports some trouble on the road by freezing tanks delaying trains in taking on water. This is the first trouble from this source this season which amounted to anything. Skating is good today and many boys are out on the pond and gravel pits. The lake at Wallace park is frozen to a thickness of several inches and skating is excellent at this place.

Many Pipes Burst.

The cold wave has played havoc with ranges and water pipes and the plumbers are repairing the harvest today.

About 6 o'clock this morning the water back in the range at the residence of Mr. W. L. Bauer, of Mechanicsburg, burst and wrecked the stove.

The cook escaped injury, but the stove is a total wreck and a new one will have to be supplied.

The water in the waterback froze and when the fire was built and steam raised in the waterback, it had no outlet and tore the range to pieces when it gave way.

Plumbers report nearly a hundred cases of the pipes bursting, among them being the following, little damage being done: Geo. Katterjohn, South Eleventh, Luke Russell, Jefferson; J. R. Meyers, Broadway; Reed, Madison street; H. H. Lovins, Monroe; Ed. Ashbrook, North Fourth street; I. Nauheim, Jefferson; Wallerstein, North Fourth; W. E. Baker, North Seventh; I. C. freight house; M. K. Scott, North Fourth; Harry L. Luken, Madison; Whitehead restaurant; Trueheart building; C. F. Simms, Clay.

COLD WAVE STRIKES MANY OTHER CITIES.

Coldest of the Winter.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 25.—Reports from many cities and towns west and northwest show that the severest cold of the winter is prevailing and in a majority of places low temperature is intensified by high wind. In this city the mercury fell from 22 above zero to six below in 24 hours. From Burlington, Iowa, 15 below zero was reported, with high wind. Marshalltown, Iowa, reported the same intense cold and a severe gale.

In this part of the state the snow drifted badly in railroad cuts, interfering seriously with traffic. Around Marshalltown business on the Iowa Central and Great Western is practically at a standstill. Some general conditions prevailed throughout Indiana. Navigation on the Ohio river has been suspended. The severest cold in several years is reported from Indiana and Kentucky. It is reported from Omaha that during the last 24 hours Nebraska has experienced the coldest weather of the winter. At Omaha it was ten below and eight below at Lincoln. Reports from outside points in Nebraska declare the mercury was all the way from 10 to 25 below and accompanying the cold was a high wind from the north. It is expected the cold wave will continue over a greater part of the west until tomorrow night.

Cold in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 25.—A blizzard struck this city yesterday. The temperature fell from 28 above zero to four below within twelve hours.

Blizzard in West.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 25.—The coldest wave of the winter is prevailing throughout Kansas and Western Missouri. Ten below is expected. The body of an unknown young man, probably frozen to death by the preceding cold spell, was found in a straw stack at Wichita today.

KENTUCKY GETS A BLAST OF THE BLIZZARD.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 25.—The severest weather of the winter is reported today from all over Kentucky. Some of the readings below zero are: Louisville, 3; Middlesboro, 12; Danville, Lexington, Maysville, Nicholasville, Frankfort, Owingsville, Henderson, 8 each.

Heavy snows are falling in the mountains and business there is generally suspended.

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, HAS A $50,000 BLAZE.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 25.—Fire that started in a furniture block on North Thirtieth street at midnight practically destroyed that building, a four story brick, and spread to the Halter block adjoining. Loss fifty thousand dollars.

JAPS TO FORM A SPECIAL SQUADRON.

Tokio, Jan. 25.—Announcement is made by the navy department today that a special service squadron is about to be formed, but the announcement contained no details.

JUDGE W. M. REED REFUSED TO VACATE

Judge Park Filed Affidavit to Swear Him off Bench.

Judge Reed Today Delivered An Opinion Declining and Giving His Reasons.

INTEREST AMONG LAWYERS

The only unusual thing that has happened in circuit court this week was the filing by Judge D. G. Park, the well-known attorney, of an affidavit in the cases of C. W. Boswell and Z. T. Long, of Mayfield, against the Citizens' Savings bank, to swear Circuit Judge W. M. Reed off the bench and allow a special judge to try the cases.

The affair is the more interesting because Judge Reed and Judge Park are half brothers. The legal fraternity has been watching the case with anticipation. The whole affair was kept quiet until this morning, when Circuit Judge Reed filed an opinion in reply to the affidavit, declining to vacate the bench, and giving his reasons therefor.

The case in which the affidavit was filed is a suit of Mayfield men against the bank to recover money they claim the bank had on hand last summer belonging to the Odell Co., of Cincinnati.

A brief history of the case is that Long and Boswell while operating in stocks, lost money. They bought through Gilbert and Arenz, proprietors of the Paducah Commission Co., and suit was instituted in Mayfield against Gilbert and Arenz to recover the losses, and a judgment secured against the commission company. Money in the hands of Citizens' Savings bank was attached. The Odell Co. was doing business with the bank at this time, and in the attachment the money was credited to the Odell Commission Co., and the bank paid the money to the Odell Co., alleging no Odell Commission Co. existed. Separate suits were then brought in circuit court here to recover the amounts paid over which amount to about $1,453 in the Boswell case, and $1,376 in the Long case.

All preliminary motions pertaining to the suits were heard by Judge Reed without protest until the time to try the case proper came, when Judge Park, attorney for the plaintiffs, came into court and filed the affidavits, as follows:

"C. W. Boswell against the Citizens' Savings bank, and Z. T. Long against the Citizens' Savings bank. The plaintiffs, C. W. Boswell and Z. T. Long say that on account of the former relations of the regular presiding judge of this court, Hon. W. M. Reed, as attorney for the Paducah Commission Co., and others, a firm composed of H. J. Arenz and George B. Gilbert in the original action in which the funds alleged were attached, and on account of the personal relation between himself and those who are interested in the defendant, the Citizens' Savings bank, as officers and stockholders in such bank, and his partiality for them, it is not possible for them to get a fair and impartial trial of these actions before him.

They therefore move that the regular judge vacate the bench and allow a special judge to preside therein. (Signed.)

C. W. BOSWELL,
Z. T. LONG.

Judge Reed drew up a lengthy opinion overruling the motion and giving his reasons for so doing. He stated, "that the affidavit filed by plaintiff in said action is insufficient in law as to require the judge of the court to retire from the bench." He further explained that the allegations relative to his relations with the defendant, the bank people, were a "mere conclusion of the affiants," without the statement of any fact from which such conclusions could be reached.

The court further stated in his opinion that he was not indebted to any of the stockholders in the bank or the stockholders to him, did not own stock in the bank, and as to his acting as attorney for the commission company, he was only nominally so because at the time he was in partnership with Judge E. W. Berry, who handled the business of the commission company, and that he himself

THIS CHICAGO MAN WAS A BLUE BEARD

Had at Least Thirteen Different Wives.

Killed Most of Them—Changed His Name Everytime He Married a New One.

HE IS STILL AT LARGE YET

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Police Inspector Shippy declared today that Johann Hoch whose wife died mysteriously a few days ago, had married at least thirteen women in the last ten years. Four of them died within a short time after their marriage. Hoch is still missing.

Henry Schwarznara has identified a photograph of Hoch as the likeness of a man who married his mother-in-law in St. Louis in April, 1903. The woman died a year after the marriage and Hoch disappeared three days later. He left funeral bills unpaid, so it is alleged, although he had collected insurance which he had procured on the woman's life.

A furniture dealer on Milwaukee avenue has informed the police that he furnished five different flats for Johann Hoch, each time under a different name, and that he had a new wife for every flat.

The dealer told the police he knew the women who were installed in the first three flats died shortly after marriage. He asked Hoch why he changed his name every time he married, and Hoch replied he did not believe he could get married under the same name every time, as many women would object to marrying a man who had been so many times a widower.

KILLED HIS WIFE WHILE DESPONDENT

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—In a cottage on Stanton street, sometime today or during last night, E. L. Jameson, a clerk formerly of Portland, Oregon, killed his young wife and shot and probably fatally wounded himself. Jameson had been out of work.

ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S SURGEONS KILLED

Manila, Jan. 25.—The town of San Francisco De Malabon, province of Cavite, was attacked by ladrones last night. Contract Surgeon J. O'Neil was killed.

FIRM FAILED AT PARIS; ONE PADUCAH CREDITOR.

Paris, Tenn., Jan. 25.—F. W. Bell, who has been in the general merchandise trade in Paris for several years, filed a deed of assignment to R. L. Rickman to secure indebtedness of $3,250. The only Paducah creditor is M. Livingston & Co.

had never drawn a pleading for the commission company. The opinion reads further that had the plaintiff or attorney intimated at the outset that they desired him to vacate the bench, he would have done so, but as all preliminary matters in the case had been heard by him, and most of the rulings were in favor of the plaintiff, too, he did not feel that at this late day the plaintiffs should take such action and that he would overrule the motion because it did not carry with it sufficient legal backing to justify such action on his part in vacating the bench.

The cases are set for trial on the 27th day of the term, Tuesday, and there remains but little preliminary work to do before the regular trial of the cases, and Judge Reed will continue the case by request of plaintiffs it is likely.

The suits resulted from a mistake on the part of the attorney in the original suits, it is said, in attaching money belonging to the Odell Commission Co. At the time of the attachment the Odell Commission Co. was not doing business with this bank, and had been succeeded by a corporation, "The Odell Co.," in which name the money was deposited, and the bank refused to honor the attachment because it held no money belonging to the Odell Commission Co. It was alleged that the Gilbert & Arenz company had an interest in the money of the Odell Commission Co. which is the reason the money was attached.

PATRIOTS OF POLAND THREATEN TO REVOLT

No Bloodshed in Russia--The Strikers Increase.

A Quiet Night.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—The night passed quietly and more shops were opened this morning. Crowds on the streets gave the city a more animated appearance than at any time since Sunday. No disorders within the confines of the city have been reported.

Strike Propaganda.

Reval, Russia, Jan. 25.—A strike propaganda went into effect here today. The employees of the railway works, Wigand factory and Metalurgi works, quit work and many shops are closed. Troops are still on guard in small bodies. Strikers are parading the streets, but no disturbances have occurred. Reval is situated on the south shore of the Gulf of Finland.

Where the Czar Is.

London, Jan. 25.—The Central News is authority for the information that the czar is still at Tsarkoe Selo. He will remain there it is said, until January 28, when he will return to the winter palace for the opening court ball of the season.

Gorki is Arrested.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—Maxim Gorki, the author, named on several occasions as the head of the proposed provisional government, was arrested last evening.

The Disorder at Kishineff.

Kishineff, Bessarabia, Jan. 25.—Revolutionary sentiment made its appearance here last night. A performance was in progress at the Theatre when hostile cries were suddenly raised against the government, and revolutionary pamphlets were distributed. Twenty persons were arrested. Kishineff is the town where the recent massacre of the Jews occurred. The disorder is growing today.

Keeping It From the Czar.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—It is stated on good authority that the czar has been imperfectly informed of events of the past few days. Many features of the situation have been concealed from him, and others have been misrepresented.

Ominous in Poland.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—The situation in Poland today seems more menacing than in any other part of the empire. The entire population there is well armed, owing to the systematic organization of the revolutionary committees, and the strike sentiment continues to spread here and with it the belief increases that revolution must follow.

Workmen to Reconsider.

Moscow, Jan. 25.—The workmen who yesterday refused to quit work are now reconsidering their attitude as a result of threats by strikers to do them bodily injury if they don't quit. It is estimated that twenty-five thousand men are now out.

The Pangs of Hunger.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—Dispatches this evening report that strikes have been inaugurated at Tamboff and Astrachan. Poverty and hunger are working among the strikers here. The pay of men and women in the factories was so small that it was next to impossible to be permitted to return to work but were turned away.

Quiet at Riga.

Riga, Jan. 25.—Most of the workers in factories here have struck and masters and strikers have opened negotiations and are now discussing terms. All is quiet. Riga is one of the most important commercial ports in Russia.

Stories Are Conflicting.

London, Jan. 25.—No report of the alleged occurrences in Russia appear too wild or extravagant to find place in some European journals. An instance of the wild statements is in the Mail's St. Petersburg dispatches, which describe a veritable battle between strikers and the troops near Kolpino and a wholesale slaughter of the strikers.

The Associated Press St. Petersburg correspondent reports similar scenes of massacres at random and describes Kuropatkin's army as ripe for revolt.

There are conflicting reports about Maxim Gorki. The tandard's St. Petersburg correspondent says the novelist narrowly escaped capture but the Telegraph's correspondent who was himself arrested but subsequently released, says Gorki was among those arrested whose only crime consisted in having been members of delegates that visited M. Witte, president of the council of the empire after a vain attempt to interview Minister of the Interior Mirsky. They are all, the correspondent adds, now interned in secret section of St. Peter and St. Paul fortress. The correspondent says that "they are guilty of no illegal act, except being present at a meeting exceeding five persons. None of them would have anything to do with secret committees or underground agitation. It was they who in my presence, refused to listen to a suggestion that a prominent committee should be formed to direct the revolutionary movement. A young woman who had been collecting money for hungry workmen was arrested yesterday."

The Telegraph's correspondent adds:

"I am enabled to state emphatically that neither Witte nor Mirsky had any hand or part in the deeds of the last three days, which they both sincerely deplore as blunders and a crime."

The Chronicle's correspondent at St. Petersburg states that Minister of Finance Muraviev appealed to the emperor not to appoint Treppoff governor general of the city or to declare the city in a state of siege.

Strikers May Be Deported.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—Notice was posted today at all works giving the strikers twenty-four hours to resume employment, and intimating that those who do not comply will be deported to the Villages. At Saratoff the railway shopmen and other industrial employes struck.

More Go On a Strike.

Moscow, Jan. 25.—Workmen in twenty factories struck this afternoon and the men are parading under the watchful eyes of the troops. There have been no encounters between strikers and troops.

Funerals Held Today.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 25.—The strike movement is spreading throughout the district of Saratoff. One of the most important trade and manufacturing centers in Russia. The funerals of those killed Sunday occurred today, and the services were replete with pathetic scenes.

YOU CAN INTEREST HIM.

Any Man Over Fifty.

You can interest any man over 50 years of age in anything that will make him feel better, because while he may not as yet have any positive organic disease he no longer feels the buoyancy and vigor of 25 nor the freedom from aches and pains he enjoyed in earlier years, and he very naturally examines with interest any proposition looking to the improvement and preservation of his health.

He will notice among other things that the stomach of 50 is a very different one from the stomach he possessed at 25. That greatest care must be exercised as to what is eaten and how much of it, and even with the best of care, there will be increasing digestive weakness with advancing years.

A proposition to perfect or improve the digestion and assimilation of food is one which interests not only every man of any age, because the whole secret of good health, good blood, strong nerves, is to have a stomach which will promptly and thoroughly digest wholesome food because blood, nerves, brain tissue and every other constituent of the body are entirely the product of digestion, and no medicine or "health" food can possibly create pure blood or restore shaky nerves, when a weak stomach is replenishing the daily wear and tear of the body from a mass of fermenting half-digested food.

No, the stomach itself wants help and in no round-about way, either; it wants direct, unmistakable assistance, such as is given by one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

These tablets cure stomach trouble because their use gives the stomach a chance to rest and recuperate; one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain digestive elements sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of ordinary food such as bread, meat, eggs, etc.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply make matters worse, as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trade mark must be a humbug, whereas as a matter of truth any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of indigestion, heart burn, heart trouble, nervous prostration and run-down condition generally than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

AGENT DINNEEN

MADE A GOOD ARREST UP AT PRINCETON, KY.

Boys Held Over—Louisville Man Jumped His Bond.

James T. Hinton, the express messenger arrested some months ago at Louisville for stealing jewelry that passed through his hands while running between Louisville and Paducah, on the Illinois Central, has jumped his $300 bond, according to Special Agent Dinneen, of the I. C., who was here yesterday. Hinton was not the regular messenger, and a quantity of stolen jewelry was found where he had disposed of it.

Special Agent Dinneen arrested at Princeton, Ky., a few days ago, Edward Wormlesduff, a former hostler for the road. A lot of railroad tickets were in the baggage room at Princeton, it is claimed, and they disappeared, about $2,000 worth of them it is claimed, being taken by the above, and nearly $800 worth of them being found on him.

Eddie Welch, Joe Wyner, and Milton Zenthofer, the three Louisville boys arrested here by Officer Aaron Hurley for stealing shoes from a freight car on the I. C. have been held for grand jury action at Princeton. They will probably not be sent to the reform school.

CONDUCTOR HICKS HAS A RUN HERE.

Conductor John W. Hicks, formerly depot master at Louisville, who has been running on the manifest freights between Paducah and Louisville, is running between Paducah and Cairo on a passenger run in the place of Conductor F. P. Coburn, who is laying off.

BURIAL HERE

"DO RIGHT" PREACHER'S SLAYER EXONERATED.

Later Reports Indicate He Struck the First Blow.

The remains of William Major Grayor, the "Do Right" preacher shot and killed in Cairo Sunday night by George Carr, are expected in the city tonight for burial.

The coroner's jury at Cairo that investigated the killing exonerated Carr and he was released. The Cairo Citizen gives the following further details of the killing:

"Numerous letters had been sent by Greer to Mrs. Carr and some of these had fallen into Carr's hands. The last letter was received last Friday.

"Carr met Greer on Commercial avenue Sunday afternoon and determined to speak to the preacher and try and induce him to let his wife alone. They were both going north on that street and had about reached 17th street when Carr addressed Greer. The latter turned around when addressed, and stepping back, struck at Carr with a stout walking cane. The blow struck Carr on the left arm, Greer then drew back as though to draw a gun and Carr whipped out a 38 Colt's revolver and fired three times. The first shot took effect in Greer's head and felled him. Carr fired again after Greer had fallen, the ball passing through Greer's neck, coming out on the opposite side. Greer died early this morning of his injuries. Carr then went to the fire station and gave himself up."

LOST HIS NERVE.

When He Saw His Poisoned Sweet-heart's Death Struggles.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 25.—Arthur Henry Milligan, with his several aliases with whom Florence O. Graves agreed to commit suicide at the Hotel Blatz, and who disappeared after she had fulfilled her agreement Monday morning, was arrested at Racine last night. After his arrest Milligan detailed the story of his life and the incidents of his wife's death. He said that Florence Graves took carbolic acid in his presence at the hotel after she had made three attempts to kill herself. Milligan was not married to Florence Graves. The couple left the Graves residence at Chicago and eloped with the intention of marrying, but lack of time prevented the carrying out of their plans.

Milligan said he sat on the bedside and watched the girl's terrible struggle after she had taken the poison and said it so unnerved him that he did not have the courage to keep his part of the agreement to die.

BLOCKADED.

Every Household in Paducah Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blockaded.

Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Paducah.

J. W. Wootan, the well known woodworker, now retired, residing at 1403 Burnett street, says: "I have a high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills because they do just what is claimed for them. I have had kidney trouble more or less for fifteen years. After trying a number of remedies that gave me very little relief, if any, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at DuBois, Kolb & Co's drug store and began to take them as directed. I found them to be the very thing for my trouble. In a few days I noticed a great change in my condition. Before taking the pills my rest at night was greatly disturbed, but now I can go to bed and rest as peacefully as anyone. I give all the credit for this to Doan's Kidney Pills."

How an Engineer Saved a Child's Life

Special Correspondence.

From Wichita, Kansas.

Mr. Joseph Tack, living at 423 W. 2nd Street, this city, one of the oldest and best known engineers in the State of Kansas, tells an interesting story in which he saved the life of Mary, the beautiful child of section foreman Wade Roy. Mary was sweet company for her mother, and she always ran with smiling and joyful glee to meet her father as he came from work, and her happy disposition banished any cares or worries that he may have had.

For two months little Mary lay at the point of death. The family physician had called in consultation three of the most skilled of his professional brothers. These good doctors did all in their power, with not a spark of improvement in Mary's condition. They lost all hope, and told the mother that her little darling could not live.

The Rescue as Told by the Engineer

A year ago I was troubled so with my stomach I thought I had cancer. One Sunday afternoon I had such pain I could hardly stand it. I was at Wichita, where we had three hours' lay over before going to Salina. I went to Arch McVicar's drug store, and asked for a dose of Bromo Soda. He said that would only help for a few minutes and recommended Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for a permanent cure. I bought a bottle and had immediate relief. I took four bottles and am cured entirely.

I have run a locomotive engine for twenty-eight years, twenty-five of that time on passenger, where we only have twenty minutes for meals. That is what ruins railroad men's stomachs; that is why I thought it my duty to tell you about this medicine, so that my brothers could be relieved in case of trouble of this kind.

I have been a B. L. E. for twenty-seven years; run on Mo. P. R. R. twenty years; am known nearly all over Kansas. About a year ago, now, our section foreman, Wade Roy, from Ruella, told me his little girl had cholera infantum, and was given up by three doctors. While I lay at Kiowa I bought a new bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, and while sitting in the coach I read a testimonial where children had been cured by taking twenty drops when doctors had given them up, so I poured half of my new bottle in the old one, and when I got back to Ruella, I stopped the engine in front of the section house and gave him the bottle and told him to read the circular and use his own judgment, that the medicine had cured me. Next morning he was at Anthony smiling and said the child was better from the first dose. In two weeks she was up and running around, and a more grateful family was never seen. With best wishes I remain, JOS. TACK, Engineer Mo. P. R. R., 423 W. 2nd St., Wichita, Kansas.

O O O O O O O O O O O

Manager James E. English, of The Kentucky, this morning received the following letter from Col. A. J. Decker, of Paducah, who recently saw the County Chairman:

Mr. James E. English, Mgr
Kentucky Theater, City.

Dear Sir:
In answer to your inquiry as to what I thought of the "County Chairman," I will state that it contains more fun and witty sayings than any show that it has been my pleasure to witness for sometime. It would be wise for the present crop of candidates to turn out en masse to witness this show. They can get many pointers which will be of service to them in the coming campaign. I sincerely hope that you may have a crowded house, as the show is surely entitled to it. Very truly yours, (Signed) A. J. DECKER.

RUNAWAY BOYS WAITING FOR FUNDS

Ward W. Waters, or Champion, Ill., and Jesse Johnson, of Celina, O., who were arrested yesterday for running away from their school, are still in the city, the former waiting for funds from his father and the latter for a man to take him back.

Chief of Police James Collins yesterday telegraphed to the Johnson boy's father and received word to hold the boy and he would be sent for and the Waters boy's father, who is agent for the American Express Co., telegraphed that he would send money for his son to come home on.

The boys are very glad that their parents forgave them and will go home willingly. Last night they stayed at the residence of Detective Will Baker and have made themselves popular with the police because of their frank, straightforward manner.

NEW TERM.

Is Expected to Bring Many New Pupils.

Today the semi-annual school examinations will close and at 3 o'clock this afternoon the pupils will be dismissed for the remainder of the week. Monday the second term will begin with many additions to the schools in way of new pupils.

Supt. Leib stated today that he has issued many entrance cards and thinks the attendance will be greater than the opening of school in September because but comparatively few have quit school the present term.

The pipes in the laboratory at the High school burst this morning but little damage was done. Little trouble was reported from the other schools.

REMAINS ARE STILL BEING HELD HERE

The remains of Jerry Lally, known as John Lay, who died Sunday night of pneumonia, are still being held at the Nance & Pool undertaking shop until relatives can be heard from.

The telegram sent yesterday to the mother was returned, failing to reach the proper person and Mr. Guy Nance has written a personal letter to the chief of police to have the matter looked into. The remains will be held until something definite is learned about his people.

The remains of Dock Boyd are also held at the Nance & Pool place until relatives can be heard from. The body has been embalmed for keeping.

Theatrical Notes

The New York World of Tuesday, October 18th, published the following in regard to "A Trip to Africa" company, which will be presented at The Kentucky Thursday night.

"The colored four hundred turned out to see John Larkins and a real colored show at the Third Avenue Theatre last night. It was a new venture—a first night. It was one of the best shows presented here, of its kind, for some time, and it was not a Williams and Walker affair.

"There was plenty of 'ye old tyme songs,' and many new musical numbers and dances were numerous.

"The watermelons and chickens and 'possums and sweet potatoes figured prominently. Large and gorgeous floral pieces passed over the footlights, for everyone appropriately.

"Larkins and his company made a big hit, with the audience." Balcony reserved for colored people that night.

George Ade's notable comedy drama, "The County Chairman," which Henry W. Savage offers at The Kentucky on Friday night does not rely upon politics, as the title might indicate, for its chief interest, although the humors of a campaign for states attorney in a village in the Middle West are strongly brought out, really concerns the love-making of Tillford Wheeler and Lucy Rigby. Lucy Rigby is a pretty schoolma'am, the daughter of old Judge Rigby, the life-long enemy of Hackler and candidate in opposition to Wheeler for state's attorney. This very human story engages the attention of the audience from the start to the finish of "The County Chairman," the greatest American play of a decade. Seats on sale tomorrow morning 10 a. m.

All work and no play,
Is a trial I wot,
And the man who is stung,
Has a very tough lot,
But to joys of this life
Are increased every day
Since "The Sambo Girl" came
And brought Eva Tanguay.

Miss Eva Tanguay, whose stage department is frequently spoken of as more nearly resembling the methods of Lotta and the late Rosina Vokes, inasmuch as she has all of the spontaneity of action remembered in the former, as well as the quiet methods which established the reputation of the latter, is to come to The Kentucky tonight, when she will be seen for the first time here as a star in her own production of the big musical travesty entitled, "The Sambo Girl." Miss Tanguay has been winning golden opinion in the name part of this play and her advent here is awaited with pleasurable anticipation by theatre-goers who know that any play to which "the Tanguay" lends her unique personality is sure to be presented with an environment that cannot other than prove eminently satisfactory. Seats now on sale.

Miss Mary Emerson in a romantic drama, "His Majesty and the Maid," was seen in the Temple theatre last night, says the Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette, and the impression she made was much in her favor. Miss Emerson has among other things which contribute to her success a rich and sweetly attuned voice, and charm of diction. She has grace and no ordinary degree of beauty and these added to several strong elements of good acting made her work as "Alicia" convincing as well as pleasing.

The story of the play hinges on the fact that Alicia, supposedly of humble origin—daughter of peasants—is really the daughter of a king whose wife died while he was in foreign countries. The king was not told of the child's birth and does not discover her until she is grown to womanhood. Then he takes her to the palace.

MISS MARY EMERSON.

ace as waiting maid to the queen and treats her with such respect and admiration that it rouses the queen's anger and moves tongues to gossip.

The first act is beautiful and natural, and Miss Emerson and Otto, played by Mr. A. P. Osler, at once found favor with the audience.

"Everyman" was enjoyed by a small but appreciative audience at the Kentucky theater last night. It is the first time this ancient play was ever presented in this section, and the capable company that interpreted it made it a treat long to be remembered. There is strong heart interest throughout the presentation, and despite the fact that it is practically only one act, there was no weariness, and the audience would have liberally applauded the excellent work had there been an opportunity. Mr. Magnus' acting of the ex-acting title role is well worthy of the commendation the critics have bestowed on him and the elaborate scenery and costumes are not to be overlooked in reviewing the play. Mr. Magnus' associates were well selected, and made the play all claimed for it—that it is as true today as 500 years ago.

The Frank Dudley company has been secured for a return engagement starting Monday night at The Kentucky. The same excellence of productions that marked a previous engagement of this company will be adhered to. There is hardly the

Looking Forward.

It is certain that you will have an old age if you live. Make it certain that your old age will be comfortable by commencing to save today.

You ought not to find it a hard matter to save a little out of your income. Enough to make it certain that you will be independent in your old age.

Saving becomes easy when it becomes a habit. It is a good habit. It is almost the only habit which you can have which will do you absolutely no harm.

A dollar a week or more, or less, saved during the next few years, or remaining years of your active life, would make your old age independent.

Besides you might have an opportunity to invest your savings in something that would make you not only independent but independently rich.

One dollar will start an account.

slightest doubt but that crowded houses will welcome this excellent organization's return visit. As Mr. Dudley and the entire support made a splendid impression with The Kentucky's clientele. The plays were all high class, exquisitely costumed and beautifully staged. "The Man From Mexico" is underlined for the opening bill, upon which occasion two ladies, or a lady and gentleman will be admitted on one paid reserved ticket if secured before 5 p. m. Monday. Popular prices will prevail during the engagement.

CALLED MEETING.

Aldermen to Act Again on the Railway Ordinance.

A called meeting of the board of aldermen is to be held tonight, the expenses to be paid by the promoters of the Cairo-Paducah electric railway, for the purpose of giving final passage to the ordinance giving the company right of way over certain streets. The mayor states that he does not know whether he will sign the ordinance or not. He wants to determine some things in connection with it before he does. One of these is whether or not the city can give an enterprise of this kind a right of way, or whether or not it is a franchise and must be sold. It is understood the city solicitor holds that no matter whether or not the ordinance mentions the word "franchise," it is a franchise, and must be disposed of as the law prescribes. This means that the mayor to do his duty towards the people, would have to veto the measure, as it seeks to give away something that the statutes say must be sold and he could not afford to do something clearly against the law. The mayor states he will carefully consider the ordinance before he acts on it, if it should again pass the board of aldermen.

TO ENDOW A CHAIR IN MEMORY OF HANNA

Postmaster F. M. Fisher has received a letter regarding the endowment of the chair of political science in the Western Reserve university, of Cleveland, Ohio, in memory of the late Senator Mark Hanna. An appeal is made to the friends and admirers of Senator Hanna to contribute to this fund. The sum of $545,767 has been raised toward the monument to be erected to President McKinley at Canton. The amount desired is $600,000. Senator Hanna's friends and family are said to approve the above project. All subscriptions will be receipted for and forwarded by Postmaster Fisher.

IGNORING THE LAW.

The electric railway ordinance has been passed again in both legislative boards but not finally, with a prospect of being again vetoed by the mayor. There is but one way to obtain such grants, and this is in the legally prescribed way, with which the city and its advisor should be familiar, if they are not.A right of way over a street cannot be given by a city to anything except a trunk line. Other rights of way must be granted by franchise, and every franchise must be put up and sold to the highest bidder.
There has been no effort to sell a franchise for this right of way over those streets to be touched by this proposed road, and the mayor cannot sign an ordinance giving away such rights without violating his oath of office.The city has not only given away public rights that the law says must be sold, however, but has gone a step further and given away rights over private property. The city's excuse is "The ordinance merely gives the company right of way over certain property SO FAR AS WE HAVE THE RIGHT."The city could just as consistently give some corporation right of way through some citizen's back yard,
"so far as we have the right," and force the man to go into the courts and fight the corporation for his rights. This is what the city is trying to make the Illinois Central do now over its rights at the Eighth street intersection. The attorney who told the council Monday night that the city owned the property was talking through his hat. The Illinois Central has a clear title to the property at Eighth street over which the city has sought to give a right of way, and the city has no title at all.
The city is using it because the railroad company gave it permission to do so, and the property has never been dedicated to the city as a street or for any other purpose, and the mayor knows it and acknowledges that in his opinion the city does not own it. He consequently could not consistently sign the ordinance as now drawn. To go ahead and pass an ordinance that stands a good chance of being vetoed and could never pass over the mayor's veto, and that would precipitate a long and bitter fight over the crossing at Eighthstreet which would no doubt end in the railroad's closing the street entirely and denying the public its use, seems sheer folly. The crossing is now virtually the only clear outlet from the city between Sixth and Tenth streets, and to close it would be a hardship on the public.For the city to do something illegal and say to one of the interested parties, "You go fight it out between yourselves," is an injustice to both.
In this case it will be a decided injustice to the Illinois Central railroad, considering what it has done for Paducah, especially in connection with the opening of its private property for the use of the public, free of charge.It is hoped for the good name of our legislative boards, that none of them own any stock in this proposed electric road, as reported, or has been promised any stock, which is also reported. Or if any of them does, it is hoped he will not again vote on questions involving the road.
There is little danger, of course, of the road's coming down any street under present conditions, for the Illinois Central would stop it at Eighth street, and any citizen can get an injunction and prevent it using a foot of public thoroughfare until it gets a franchise.A good suggestion to the general council would be "do things right, or not at all."Insurance men claim that the creation of the office of wire inspector could not possibly be any more protection to them than to the city itself and the people living here. It is as much to the interest of the people to have few fires as it could possibly be to the insurance men, and bad wiring not only endangers the house in which it is done, but adjacent houses as well, any or all of which may burn because of a spread of the flames. A bad fire in Paducah sometime ago is alleged to have originated from an electric current.
The building in which it started was destroyed, but the fire did not stop there. It burned a number of other buildings in which the wiring may have been perfect. Yet that one piece of bad wiring was the indirect cause of a heavy loss to people who had taken the precaution to have their wiring done right. The amount of property then destroyed was worth more than the salary of a wire inspector for several years would have been.It may not be long until Col. W. J.
Bryan comes out flatfooted for President Roosevelt and all the latter does —and it would be to Col. Bryan's credit if he did. In an address at New Haven, Conn., a few nights ago, he said:"I was in former campaigns called the Moses; last fall I may have been the Aaron. I seemed to be talking for Moses, who was slow of speech.
We were licked so badly it took away the sting of defeat. The voting was a protest against the management of the democratic party and rebuke against it. Where we should have sounded an advance, we hesitated or beat a retreat. We must appeal to the independent voters. I told President Roosevelt I would indorse anything he did right, and I call on you to do the same. Let us give him every vote we can and help him to do what is worthy."We are glad to see Capt. W. C.
Clark, the popular representative from McCracken county, in favor of building the new state buildings on the old site, says the Mayfield Messenger. He is right in his fight against the daily dallying tactics of the building commission. Their delay is an outrage and will finally cost the taxpayers of the state at least $100,000.Why go without a warm coat when you can buy so cheap.

I tried local applications for some time, and getting no permanent relief I came to the conclusion that the seat of the trouble was in the blood. Knowing S. S. S. to be a good blood medicine I began its use,

Henderson, Ky., is said to have the coldest, most critical audiences in the state of Kentucky, but they all warmed up to vivacious little Eva Tanguay, who will be at The Kentucky tonight. The Gleaner says: "I am glad you have given me a chance to speak to you. You have been very generous with your applause and I thank you. You can be assured that every move I make in the next act will be made to show my love for you."

So chirped last night Eva Tanguay, the vivacious, the nimble, the formidable in the first curtain talk made in the Park theater.

It was a compliment that worked both ways. A compliment to the sweet little actress and a compliment to Henderson theatergoers. For Henderson folk are conservative, sometimes cold, and Miss Tanguay was the first star, of all the many famous ones who have been before Henderson audiences this winter, to be called before the footlights for a few words in a conversational tone. It was the first time that a Henderson house has "warmed up," as the every day vernacular has it, to a star this season.

Mrs. Melville S. Collins, as Miss Tanguay is known to her closer friends, made a lasting impression on the large house which greeted her and her company last evening. From the beginning the people loved her and the feeling increased until at the close the audience was Tanguay mad and called her back time and again, with wild cheers, whistles and hand clapping even after the last curtain, for just one more verse of "Eva Tanguay's Love Song." Such an occurrence was never known before known in Henderson.

One of the most appreciated songs of the evening was the love song at the close of the second act in which the hit of Henderson's theatrical season invited the house to join her. One lone whistler in the gallery took up the air and when he seemed to weaken the vivacious little woman encouraged him with Tanguay remarks and nods which made the house more than enthusiastic.

Miss Tanguay is in a class to herself. Such nervous energy and personality was never before seen in Henderson. She is a whirlwind, on the jump all the time, positively unable to sit down or remain quiet a single moment. From beginning to end it is rip, slam, bang, set 'em up again. Tanguay.

"Do you think that where there are so many faces a chance recognition is possible? I should be but an atom in the multitude."

"Doubtless his seeing you is most unlikely. I shall do my best for you, and hope to obtain an entrance for tomorrow."

And so it came about that Frances was one of the fashionable audience next day, occupying the place of a lady who had attended the trial from the first, but was now tired of it.

The girl listened to the hum of conversation going on round her and caught understandable scraps of it now and then. She was in an entirely new atmosphere, for here every one seemed in favor of Strafford, thought him badly used and was certain he would emerge triumphant from the ordeal. Then let his enemies beware! Feminine opinion was unanimous that all those who were concerned in this trial against his lordship would bitterly regret the day they had taken such action. The spirits of Frances rose as she listened. The inviolable confidence by which she was environed had its inspiring effect on her depressed mind. She no longer thought the gathering heartlessly frivolous, as at first she had resentfully estimated it. She was in the midst of enthusiastic champions of her father and realized now as never before the great part he played in the world.

Suddenly there was a movement in the upper part of the hall, and lords and commons filed in to their places. A silence fell on the audience, maintained also in dignified state by the judges, but to the section occupied by the commons was transferred the rustle of talk which had previously disturbed the stillness of the auditorium. Men bustled about, whispering to this member of parliament or that. Papers and notes were exchanged, while by contrast their lordships seemed like inanimate statues.

Once again the center of attention changed. The hall resounded with the measured tramp of armed men. Two rows of soldiers took their stand opposite each other, leaving a clear passage between, and slowly up this passage, with four secretaries and some half dozen others behind him, came a bowed and pallid figure dressed in black, a single decoration relieving the somberness of his costume, which hung, loosely unfitting, about a frame that had become gaunt since its wear began.

"That is the Earl of Strafford," whispered the lady on the right, but the remark fell upon unlistening ears. How changed he was! No trace now of that arrogance of which she had caught glimpses during her brief acquaintance with him; a broken man who had but a short time to live, whatever might be the verdict of this court. Sentence of death was already passed on him by a higher tribunal, and all this convocation might do was to forestall its execution.

He stood in his place for a moment, and bowed to his judges, but gave no sign that he had knowledge of the existence of his accusers, and the girl began to doubt if the old arrogance had, after all, entirely departed from him. Then, leaning heavily on the arm of one of his secretaries, he sank into his seat and closed his eyes as if the short walk from the bar to the hall of judgment had been too much for him. As he sat thus there stole down to him a boy lending two children. Strafford's eyes opened, and he smiled wanly upon them, put an arm around the boy's neck and fondled the girls to his knee, both of whom were weeping quietly.

"Who—who are those?" gasped Frances, yet knowing while she asked, and feeling a pang, half jealousy, half pain, that she must hold aloof unnoticed.

"They are his son and his two daughters. The third daughter is not here."

"The third?" she cried in surprise.

"Does he then acknowledge a third?"

"The third is an infant too young to know what is going on. Hush! We must not talk."

The girl's eagerness fell away from her; she reclined back in her seat and sighed deeply. The preliminaries of the day passed her like a dream, for she knew nothing of the procedure, but at last her attention was aroused, for she saw her father on his feet, and before she was aware he began to speak the voice at first cold and calm, penetrating the remotest corner of that vast room, in argument that even she recognized as clear, logical and dispassionate as if he were setting forth the case of another. He was listened to with the most profound respect by enemies and friends alike. He seemed to brush away the charges against him as if they were very cobwebs of accusation. As he went on he warmed more to his theme, and by and by the girl, leaning intently forward, drinking in every word, knew that she was listening to oratory such as had never before greeted the ears of England and probably never would again. A breathless tension held the audience spellbound, and it seemed impossible that his direct foe could remain unmoved. The belief in his acquittal now became a certainty and it was every moment more and more evident that this acquittal would also be a triumph.

The speaker went on to his peroration. "And now, my lords, I thank God I have been, by his blessing, sufficiently instructed in the extreme vanity of all temporal enjoyments, compared to the importance of our eternal duration. And so, my lords, even so, with all humility and with all tranquillity of mind, I submit clearly and freely to your judgments. And whether that righteous doom shall be to life or death, I shall repose myself, full of gratitude and confidence, in the arms of the Great Author of my existence."

On none of the vast visible through had the effective oration exercised greater power than upon an unseen listener. The awed stillness was suddenly broken by a splintering crash, and the startled audience, looking up, saw the frail lattice-work of the alcove shattered, and the king standing there like a ghost enframed by jagged laths. Stern determination sat on that handsome countenance; a look which said as plainly as words, "This man shall not die!" His hands clutched the broken framework beneath him, and he moistened his lips as if to give utterance to the words his expression fore shadowed. But before he could speak, a tall, angular figure sprang out from among the commons and held up a snowy hand. His face was ablaze with anger; his stentorian voice dominated the hall, envenomed with hatred, striking the ear with terror as does the roar of a tiger.

"The night of England, in parliament assembled, gives judgment untrammelled and unafraid. The king is not here. The king cannot be here. The throne is vacant and must remain vacant until justice is done."

As the last words rang out, the long index finger, shaken menacingly, pointed at the empty chair. There was defiance of king or minister in words and tone and gesture, a challenge to the throne. The pale face of the king became ghastly white, his hand trembled and fragments of the lattice-work fell from beneath it. Irresolution took the place of former determination, and he glanced pitifully from right to left as if seeking human support, of which, in the amazed stillness, there was no indication. Then the fine white hand of an unseen woman showed for a moment on his arm like a snowflake, and Charles, with one look of haunting compassion on the prisoner, disappeared from sight. The phantom picture had vanished from its ragged frame without a sound and blank darkness occupied its place. Truly the king was not present, conjured away by the strenuous hand of the fierce combatant on the stage and the soft hand of the woman behind the scenes.

"Who is that man?" whispered Frances, gazing in frightened fascination on the rude interrupter.

"That is John Pym, the chief prosecutor and deadly personal enemy of Lord Strafford."

As the girl gazed at this dominating individuality all the froth of confidence in her father's acquittal, whipped up by the chatter of conversation at the beginning, evaporated. There stood the personified hatred of England against the Earl of Strafford. No wavering in accent or action there, but a determined man, knowing what he wanted and bent on having it. To her excited imagination the resolute face took on the semblance of a death mask, and the clinched hand seemed to grasp the shaft of an ax. It was as if the headman had suddenly stood forth and claimed his own, and a chill as of the grave swept over the audience with a shudder in its wake.

A low wailing cry went sobbing across the silence, a cry that tugged at Strafford's heart when he heard it. What memory did it stir in his troubled mind? A reminiscence of something that had escaped him, crowded out by matters of more pressing moment.

"What is that?" he asked anxiously.

"It is nothing, my lord," answered Volins, stepping between his master and the commotion among the women. "A lady has fainted, that is all. They are taking her out."

MANY LEAGUES.

The South Will Have at Least Eight This Year.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 25.—Dixie will be literally smeared with baseball leagues this new year and no less than eight will be in action when the trumpet sounds.

Here is the promised list of organizations: Southern, South Atlantic, Cotton States, Delta, North Texas, South Texas, K. I. T., or Kitty, Tennessee-Alabama. These eight leagues will foot up a total of fifty or sixty teams, and with fourteen athletes booked for each camp there should be over 800 enlisted men in action.

This will be by far the greatest bulk of performers ever gathered in Dixie since base hits first began to flourish.

North, east or west can furnish no parallel to this. Dixie is undoubtedly on the greatest boom in ballroom's realm it has ever known in the annals of the game.

Another feature is the increased attention given the best men by the big people of the game. The best men in the Southern, South Atlantic and Cotton States are nabbed even before the season ends by the majors, and few fall by the wayside.

HOPKINSVILLE FANS TO HOLD A MEETING.

"It is difficult of attainment. I advise you not to go there, for if his lordship happened to catch sight of you in that throng who knows but at a critical moment it might unnerve him, for he is a man fighting with his back to the wall against implacable and unscrupulous enemies."

"Could you not get me some station where I might look upon my father unseen by him?"

"Seats in the hall are not to be picked or chosen. If a place can be made by it will be because some person who thought to attend cannot be present."

"Do you think that where there are so many faces a chance recognition is possible? I should be but an atom in the multitude."

The Dry Docks Co. has enough work in sight to keep its forces at work the summer through, from present indications. The Dick Clyde will be let off the docks in about ten days if the weather moderates so the carpenters can resume work, and following the Dick Clyde will come the Price show boat now in harbor here. She will go on for general repairs. The Sycamore, of Nashville, will be brought here in ten days for repairs on the docks and following this will come the Nellie, of Cairo.

The Scovill and Electra, which could not be repaired on the ways here because of the rush, have gone to Mound City, Ill., to be pulled out.

The Clyde leaves this evening for Tennessee river.

The towboat Woolfolk has gone to Cairo.

The Mary Hill, of Obion river will come here to go on the docks in a few weeks.

The Clyde will go out tonight for Tennessee river.

The Dick Fowler did not go to Cairo this morning because of heavy ice and business in marine circles is practically tied up except in Tennessee river, where a packet or two is running.

The Charleston did not get away yesterday but will go into Tennessee river today.

The Butteroff turned back at Smithland this morning on account of the heavy ice.

The Electra and Scovill, of the Red River fleet, have gone to Mound City to be repaired. The docks and ways here were both crowded with work.

The Red River will go to Birdsview this afternoon for corn and will then go to Nashville.

The Wilford did not come down from Kuttawa yesterday as intended on account of the heavy ice.

MANY LEAGUES.

The South Will Have at Least Eight This Year.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 25.—Dixie will be literally smeared with baseball leagues this new year and no less than eight will be in action when the trumpet sounds.

Here is the promised list of organizations: Southern, South Atlantic, Cotton States, Delta, North Texas, South Texas, K. I. T., or Kitty, Tennessee-Alabama. These eight leagues will foot up a total of fifty or sixty teams, and with fourteen athletes booked for each camp there should be over 800 enlisted men in action.

This will be by far the greatest bulk of performers ever gathered in Dixie since base hits first began to flourish.

North, east or west can furnish no parallel to this. Dixie is undoubtedly on the greatest boom in ballroom's realm it has ever known in the annals of the game.

Another feature is the increased attention given the best men by the big people of the game. The best men in the Southern, South Atlantic and Cotton States are nabbed even before the season ends by the majors, and few fall by the wayside.

HOPKINSVILLE FANS TO HOLD A MEETING.

A meeting of the Hopkinsville people interested in baseball will be held here Friday night to discuss plans for the coming season, says the New Era. Everybody who wants a club in the K. I. T. league is invited and urged to be present.

CITY LICENSES.

A Number of Changes Are Desired in Ordinance.

The joint license committee of the general council will be called some evening this week to meet and decide on changes in the license ordinance. It is claimed that on account of the extravagance of the city and the heavy expenses made necessary by it, the license on many things has been boosted, and kicks are many.

The ice, sand and other dealers want a reduction and the barbers want the special license removed from their bath departments.

It is alleged that the city has discriminated in favor of some, and has decided that merchants' license also covers retail coal dealers' license, which knocks the city out of $25 in each case. There are a number of firms that sell feed and other things, and are also in the coal business, but they have been allowed to take out one license to cover the whole thing, although the ordinance is said to be plain that two licenses are required.

PREPARATIONS BEING RUSHED FOR OPENING.

Preparations for opening the new market house Saturday are being pushed and the wiring of the building will be completed shortly and the benches all numbered by the time the building is ready for use. As far as desired and possible the butchers and gardeners and others will be given their old places. The board of works, which first declined to take the building if the market master had exclusive power to sign certificates for places, has made an agreement by which the board will co-operate in this matter, and everything is now ready for granting the licenses.

FIRE OVER AT REEVESVILLE, ILL.
Metropolis, Ill., Jan. 25.—Fire broke out in the Estes restaurant at Reevesville, and gained such headway that practically all of the business part of the town was destroyed. The following property was burned: Estes hotel and restaurant, store of Simmons & Cummins, Tomlinson's grocery and restaurant, store of Cummins Bros. Little or no insurance was carried on the buildings. The stock of Simmons & Cummins was valued at $1,850 with insurance of $1,000. The total loss will probably reach $7,000.

GRANDSON BETTER.

Judge Hocker received word Monday night that Joe, the little son of his son, Eve Hocker, is fastly improving at the home of Squire Hook in McCracken county. The family think they will soon be able to leave for their home in Texas. They came here a few weeks ago on a visit when the child took sick.—Mayfield Messenger.

Mr. Charles Trueheart, of Louisville, is in the city.
